

The Guild of Analytical Psychologists
Open Morning
6th March 10.30am to 12.30pm via Zoom

*"Your visions will become clear only when you can look into your own heart.
Who looks outside, dreams; who looks inside, awakes."*
— C.G. Jung

You are warmly invited to an Open Morning to explore aspects of our training to become a Jungian psychotherapist and Member of our Guild.

Members and Students of the Guild will be available to answer your questions.

At the heart of our training is the connection between Analytical Psychology and spirituality. We offer a study of Analytical Psychology based on close reading of the work of C.G. Jung, including the Collected Works and the Red Book, as well as post Jungian writers, with the foundation of the work being rooted in personal analysis.

We offer an online seminar-style Foundation Course (the fundamentals of Analytical Psychology), led by members of the Guild, with students contributing short presentations for discussion.

We also offer a training course in two stages:

- A Certificate Course in Jungian Psychology in London and online, during which the works of CG Jung are studied in small seminar groups, based on dialogue and student input, and regular workshops with a range of speakers from the Jungian world and the wider world of psychiatry and psychotherapy.
- A Diploma in Analytical Psychology in London and online, which is the second stage, in which candidates begin to take on clients while continuing their reading of Jung, and attending seminars, workshops, supervision and analysis. Qualification also leads to membership of the UKCP and IAAP.

Certificate Course starts in September – applications by 31st March
Foundation Course starts in October – applications by 10th September
