

The Guild of Analytical Psychologists

The Guild of Analytical Psychologists
Open Morning
5th April 2025 - 10.30am to 12pm, via Zoom

“The knowledge of the heart is in no book and is not to be found in the mouth of any teacher, but grows out of you like the green seed from the dark earth.”
— C. G. Jung, The Red Book: Liber Novus

You are warmly invited to an online Open Morning to explore aspects of our Guild and the courses we offer.

Members of the Guild will be available at the Open Morning to answer your questions.

At the heart of our training is the connection between Analytical Psychology and spirituality. The Guild’s Certificate and Diploma training course offers a study of Analytical Psychology based on a close reading of the work of C. G. Jung, including the Collected Works, The Red Book and The Black Books, as well as post-Jungian writers, with the foundation of the work being rooted in personal analysis.

Successful completion of our UKCP-accredited training course also leads to membership of the International Association for Analytical Psychology (IAAP).

We currently also offer a two-term online seminar-style Introductory Course to the Foundations of Analytical Psychology, led by members of the Guild, with participants encouraged to read relevant material and engage in discussion after a member-led presentation on a new topic each week.

Our training course is now accepting new applicants for a January 2026 intake, and we are happy to answer any questions about the training and application process.

The Certificate and Diploma training course has an application deadline of May 16th, 2025.

The Introductory Course starts in January 2026 with an application deadline of Dec 8th, 2025.
