*A completed application form with supporting documents (listed on the next page) can be submitted by email once the scan (or copy) of the handwritten paragraph of your autobiographical component, your passport-style photograph, and your degree certificate/s are high quality and entirely legible.

G.A.P. reserves the right to refuse an application

Documentation to be sent with application:

- (a) An autobiographical account of the psychological factors from your life experience that have brought you to make this application (write the last paragraph of this account in your own handwriting).
- (b) An essay of not more than 1800 words on a subject covered in the G.A.P. Foundation Course or G.A.P.'s Introductory Course to the Foundations of Analytical Psychology. The purpose of this is for us to be able to assess that you will be able to fulfil the academic demand of writing essays for the certificate course.
- (c) A reference from a person who knows you and understands in some way the nature of the work you are about to engage in. This person cannot be a relative or partner and the reference should contain the name and contact details (i.e., email and phone number) of the person who is providing the reference. G.A.P. will contact them to confirm the reference.
- (d) A copy of your degree certificate/s.
- (e) A letter from your personal analyst confirming your hours of analysis.
- (f) A passport style photograph. This can be emailed if preferred to rachael@analyticalpsychology.org
- (g) An application fee of £480 which is non-refundable, payable to G.A.P. Please use your name as the reference.
